Dear Friends,

Welcome to our 2011 report. Its theme of travel reflects our way of working together as fellow travelers toward our shared goal of community betterment. Each year, our journey continues, and we prepare well to meet challenges while also responding with flexibility to unexpected turns and discoveries. We see the familiar in new ways, exhilarated by each others’ fresh perspectives, both broad views and close-up encounters.

For example, our Early Childhood Leadership Initiative demonstrates our new, proactive, issue-driven approach to grantmaking. We found common ground among ten of our grantees working in arenas that influence the lifelong success of our youngest learners. By pooling money from several donor funds, we made grants that expand and improve these programs and connect them into an informal coalition. Their collaboration underscores the well-documented importance of a child’s first 1,000 days of life in developing skills that can lead to college success and a productive adulthood. This grantmaking initiative is also galvanizing private-and-public sector support for similar programs to strengthen early childhood education in Greater Worcester.

Another 2011 program that recognizes and builds on existing strengths is our new Professional Advisors’ Network. Financial advisors have been friends of the Foundation from its start, valuing its resilience, flexibility and efficiency as a vehicle to meet clients’ philanthropic and financial objectives. Now we are engaging advisors to actively recruit new donors, drawn by our deep knowledge of the community and the opportunity to create an endowed, named fund with $10,000 that honors a loved one or serves a cherished cause in perpetuity.

You are joining us on a great journey. Spread the word. Each year we continue to make new discoveries and reap new rewards on behalf of our community. Find out about our 2011 accomplishments in the following pages.

Sincerely,

Ann T. Lisi
President and CEO

Highlights of 2011

Celebrating our 37th year, the Foundation remains faithful to the vision of its founders, whose experiment in a distinctly neighborly and self-reliant model of philanthropy took hold and spread deep roots. Here are some of our highlights from 2011.

• Introduced the Early Childhood Leadership Initiative of the Grants Task Force, a proactive investment in local nonprofits advancing pre-K through college readiness that will foster mutual learning as well as public/private sector support.

• Continued strong growth in new donors by adding 23 new funds, bringing the total of named funds to 470.

• Received $1.7 million in gifts from donors and $1.6 million in agency fund deposits, sustaining 2010 performance.

• Furthered outreach and donor education resources by designing and inaugurating the Foundation’s new interactive web site.

• Established the Professional Advisors Network to expand relationships with these critical partners, who value the Foundation as a vehicle to meet clients’ financial and philanthropic goals and engage new donors.

• Launched the Donor Stewardship Committee to ensure continuous excellence in donor relations, promote awareness of the Foundation’s unique benefits, and help to attract more donors for the future.

Highlights of 2011

- Hosted the Foundation’s Insights 2011: Livable Cities held in September, which included a tour of the Providence Hill neighborhood, talks on Census 2010, the role of nonprofits in inner cities, and a reception at Worcester Academy’s alumni house.

Distribution Committee member Tuyet Tran and Board Chair Joe Salois were among the participants in the Foundation’s Insights 2011: Livable Cities, which included a tour of Providence Hill.

At a Nonprofit Support Center session, Fred Enman, executive director of Matthew 25, confers with his board member Barbara Athy and Nancy Cahalen of the Better Business Bureau talks with Jeannie Hebert of the Blackstone Valley Chamber of Commerce.

- Celebrating its 13th year, the Foundation’s Nonprofit Support Center helps to develop a capable, forward-thinking, and collaborative nonprofit sector in Worcester County through programs and services such as its annual breakfast series, which began with a well-attended session by Jay Vogt, “From Board Roles to Board Goals.”

Greater Worcester Community Foundation  |  2011 ANNUAL REPORT  |  5
Harry and Jane Dewey established this donor advised fund in 1994 to support a variety of educational and community service programs. A lifelong Worcester resident and one of our founders, Harry describes its advantages:

- Perpetuity: During our lives we can request payments to our favorite charities; after we are gone the fund will continue our pattern of giving.
- Investment Acumen: With its large asset base, the Foundation can obtain sophisticated investment counsel.
- Good Management: We have observed the competence of the Foundation leadership and are satisfied that it is excellent and will continue to be so.
- Flexibility: Needs change and charitable organizations cease to be. With this fund adjustments can be made without incurring court expenses.
- Community Solidarity: One of the pleasures in having a fund is the joy of joining many of our friends and hundreds of similarly motivated citizens in this effort to better our community.

Donor Advised Funds

These allow donors and their successors to actively recommend different organizations each year to receive grants.

Donors actively contribute to their community with a donor advised fund. You take a proactive, ongoing role in making grant recommendations that fulfill your charitable goals. You may also appoint successor advisors for one generation beyond yourself, and involve your children or other family members in continuing your philanthropy. Once this advising period end, your fund continues to fulfill your stated goals in perpetuity.

The Foundation is one of the oldest and largest sponsors of donor advised funds in New England. Its services simplify your giving, handling all administration and tax reporting processes for a modest fee. The Foundation can also provide you with insights into community needs that help you increase the impact of your grants. And as active participants in grantmaking, donors often enjoy joining Foundation events and connecting with others who share their charitable interests.

Even during her student teaching days at Quinsigamond Community College, Marcia Katter (1944–2000) demonstrated her abundant gifts as an early childhood educator. Soon she was directing her own program, the Trinity Lutheran Community Nursery School. Rather than turn away any child, Marcia awarded numerous scholarships to her young students.

When the Worcester Public Schools introduced its preschool program, Marcia became one of its teachers, while at the same time earning her master’s degree at Worcester State College. “This was an exciting and challenging period in my mother’s life, which she whole-heartedly embraced,” says her son, Kent P. Katter. In 2001, after his mother’s untimely death, Kent created this designated fund.

“My mother would be proud that a fund in her name benefits the Worcester Public Schools preschool program. She was a kind, giving and loving person. This fund memorializes her and honors her 25-year teaching career.”

Hollis E. and Gwendolyn D. Alden Fund

During their lifetime, Hollis and Gwendolyn Alden gave to a set of institutions they admired through their own private foundation. After the couple died, their children decided to dissolve the foundation and replace it with this designated fund. Established in 1977, the fund contributes to the causes favored by the Aldens in perpetuity.

Yet over 30 years, each of their original beneficiaries has undergone a merger, reorganization, or change in name and scope if not in mission.

Faithful to the Aldens’ preferences, the Foundation navigates such inevitable changes and makes grants to the successors or contemporary equivalents of the original organizations. For example, Easter Seals Massachusetts receives gifts that formerly supported the Bay State Society for the Crippled and Handicapped. Grants once destined for Memorial Hospital and Worcester Hahnemann Hospital now benefit UMASS Memorial Foundation.

Easter Seals Massachusetts is among the beneficiaries of the Hollis and Gwendolyn Alden Fund, which made an unrestricted grant to purchase innovative technology that engages teachers and students in interactive learning.

Dale Magee, MD, and his wife, Melanie, grew up in New York State in families of modest means. Both were the first in their families to attend college, and Regents' Scholarships funded their tuition to a state university. Those scholarships changed their lives. In 2003, the Magees established this fund to give talented young people in financial need the same opportunity. Each year’s recipient receives an award for full tuition at UMass Amherst.

“The Foundation is a pleasure to work with,” says Dr. Magee. “Within a day, they set up the scholarship we had in mind and they take care of all the paperwork. I enjoy receiving updates on how the students are doing. As I hear about their accomplishments, I see the difference my dollars are making to young lives, which means the world to me.”

Top: Recognizing the value of quality higher education as well as the importance of scholarship aid, each year Dale and Melanie Magee award a young person a full tuition scholarship at UMass Amherst through their Magee Family Education Fund.

Mary Grogan helped establish her town’s 4-H chapter, which served Millbury children for five decades. Yet generations of residents know her best as their high school Latin teacher and guidance counselor.

“Mary Grogan was an icon,” says a former student, Frank Gagliardi, a CPA and president of the Millbury Historical Society. “She noticed my A’s in bookkeeping and suggested I consider accounting. I thank her every day.”

When the 4-H chapter closed, the Worcester County 4-H Foundation, Inc. sold its clubhouse and used its proceeds to create this fund, which supports programs for Millbury youth involving nature, horticulture or education.

Grantees include a Historical Society program that brings second-graders to Millbury’s two-room schoolhouse, built in 1861. Dressed as a schoolmarm, an actress recreates a period classroom, complete with duncecap, slateboards and a switchstick. “The children really enjoy it,” says Frank. “Mary was a big influence on our town. She’s still helping us.”

The Thirty Year Class Reunion was a special one for some members of Killingly High School ‘66. They decided to pool their funds and invest together as a group in the schools they had attended as young children in Killingly, Connecticut. Through their FOLK Fund, the graduates support public education in their hometown, encourage innovation and curriculum enhancement, and inspire the love of learning in current and future generations of Killingly children.

An Advisory Committee of ‘66 graduates recommends grant awards in response to teachers’ proposals. In 2011, the Fund supported projects related to bicycle safety, Killingly history and other topics as well as educational field trips.

Robert W. Booth Fund in Memory of George F. Booth

A father’s devotion to his community continues in perpetuity

Geoff F. Booth (1870-1955) was the premier newspaperman in Worcester during his long career as editor and publisher of the city’s leading newspapers. Known as “Mr. Worcester,” he was also a force in developing the city’s quality of life. He founded the city’s parks and playgrounds and helped set up the Community Chest, now the United Way of Central Massachusetts.

In 1988, his son and heir Robert W. Booth established this discretionary fund in honor of his father with a $10 million gift that doubled the young Foundation’s assets.

“I had respect for the Foundation, and the more I learned about it, the more I liked it,” says Robert. “It would have been very foolish to set up my own foundation. I hope others will also take advantage of its flexibility and permanence. Its structure constitutes a set of eyes into community needs greater than any single person’s.”

Discretionary Funds

These funds provide support for changing community needs as determined by Foundation distribution committees.

Susan Gately, executive director of Blackstone Valley Education Foundation, regards its agency endowment fund as a springboard for innovation. Among its programs is the Youth Leadership Academy, which draws students from all 10 of the region’s school districts. This year, the Foundation is launching a version of its leadership program for adults.

“Our fund enables us to better weather financial uncertainties as we launch major programs.” says Susan.

The Education Foundation provides businesses and families in the Blackstone Valley with programs that connect work and learning, a catalyst to community development. These initiatives also include its Manufacturing Academy, STEMkids Conference and Humanities Scholars program.

The Acorn Society recognizes those who have made plans to leave a gift to the Foundation after their lifetimes. You are invited to join the roster of Acorn Society members by naming the Foundation as a beneficiary of a gift through your will or estate plan. With a bequest of $10,000 or more, you can establish a named fund that will endow your annual giving. Your planned gift may provide you with significant tax advantages. As an Acorn Society member, you will be invited to special events and Insights Tours, which bring donors and service providers together to explore issues critical to our region.

We are deeply grateful to every member of the Acorn Society, including those who prefer to remain anonymous. Your legacy strengthens your community.

Greater Worcester Community Foundation takes great care to ensure that the philanthropic contributions given to us will endure and grow on behalf of the community. Donor gifts are invested in a commingled pool governed by a disciplined strategy that is intended to both preserve capital and improve the availability of spendable funds to meet our grant and program commitments. We attempt to manage risk through extensive diversification. Among our investments are high-yield bonds, international equities, and various sectors including emerging markets, flexible capital, global macros, and inflation hedging strategies.

In 2011, the Foundation maintained its total return spending policy and set a maximum payout of 4% for grants from permanently restricted endowment funds. This approach allows spending of a fixed rate of total market value including realized and unrealized gains and enables the investment managers to maximize overall investment return, incorporating growth and income strategies, while minimizing the impact of market fluctuations. It is our aim that over many years and decades, this disciplined approach will support an increase in our capacity. Since 1995 the Foundation portfolio has grown by 7.4 percent annually.

The chart at left, Growing Your Gift, illustrates the change and increase in the market value of a $100,000 gift invested in our portfolio over a 16-year period.

The lower chart describes our asset classifications and target allocation. The detailed investment policy and up-to-date performance evaluations are available by calling the Foundation office.

CREATE A NAMED FUND
With a gift of $10,000 or more, you can establish a named fund to create your personal legacy. Your fund may be donor advised, scholarship, designated, discretionary, or field of interest. A Named Fund is a permanent and powerful way of giving. Your intentions are honored in perpetuity. Your money enters a well-managed endowment that preserves capital during tough times and extends the value and reach of your giving. And because we are a public charity, you receive the maximum tax benefits allowed by law.

ADD TO AN EXISTING FUND
Support a cause, honor a loved one, or express your values by giving to any of our existing funds. Gifts of any amount are accepted at any time.

OR MAKE A PLANNED GIFT
You can make a gift to the community that provides income and tax benefits now, and supports your philanthropic goals after your lifetime. Name the Foundation in your will or as the beneficiary of retirement assets, transfer a life insurance policy, contribute real estate as a future gift while using the property throughout your lifetime, or setting up a gift annuity or charitable remainder trust.

YCI (Youth for Community Improvement) develops the philanthropic and leadership skills of high school students from diverse backgrounds by providing the opportunity to award community grants together. YCI members of the 2011 program—Angel Winston, Eryl MacConnell, Maggie Smith, Pam Kane (Staff) and Shaina Lo—gathered at the Foundation’s annual meeting.
